

About CCIRC

The Cultural Council of Indian River County, founded in 1995, is a private 501(c)(3) non-profit membership-based corporation serving over 160,000 residents and 600,000 visitors a year. Over 300 artists and cultural organizations are members.

They include:

- Fine Art, Artist, Galleries & Museums
- Art Education Organizations
- Literacy Organizations, Authors & Writers
- Classical Orchestras, Symphonies & Opera
- Chorale, Jazz & Blues Societies
- Dance & Ballet
- Speakers & Lecturer Series
- Environmental & Historical Organizations
- Theatre

The Cultural Council of Indian River County must raise 75% of its funding from private sources annually. These private funds underwrite programs such as art education, advocacy, cultural art services, as well as cultural arts marketing and promotion of the county as a cultural tourism destination.

We Count on Your Support

On behalf of all the galleries in the Arts District, I would like to thank the Cultural Council of IRC for everything they've done; we are enjoying the successes of your efforts.

We are blessed with a plethora of the Arts here in our community, but it's thanks to the Cultural Council's ability to bring us all together as a hub and a spoke, to be our advocate, to communicate to our citizens about all the activities that are available to us.

Through the connectivity that the Cultural Council establishes, we as artists of IRC are able to connect to each other, and this connection very much leads to inspiration through collaboration, which leads to more creation of things that are of beauty, of value, of attention.
